PREFACE.

In presenting the fourth edition of the Newspaper Rate Book, the publishers desire to direct the attention of advertisers and publishers to its completeness in every detail. Each annual issue has been greeted by an increased number of friends, and the expressions of approval which have come from every direction, have led to renewed effort to make the Rate Book a standard work and a recognized authority. That success has followed the effort in a very large measure is not an exaggerated claim, for the Newspaper Rate Book is now in general use in every large city in the country, and also in many foreign and colonial centers.

The compactness of the work, and the immense amount of the information furnished in condensed form and comparatively small space, account in large measure for its popularity. Another reason for its stepping so promptly into general favor may also be mentioned. The Newspaper Rate Book is replete with new features and with exclusive information. The publishers are practical advertising men, and the data collected and arranged by them include matters almost invariably overlooked in similar compilations. It is necessary to know first what is wanted, and this knowledge was only secured by the publishers as the result of years of active work in the advertising field.

Among new features designed to supply acknowledged wants is a record of the facilities of each newspaper for preparing metal advertising plates from matrices. Until the publication of our third edition in 1900, advertisers had no means of ascertaining, except by direct correspondence in each individual case, to which papers they could safely send papier mache matrices, light in weight and easy to handle, and to which they must of necessity ship heavy metal plates. The publishers of the Newspaper Rate Book took steps to secure general information on this point. The facts were carefully tabulated and used in the body of the work. The feature proved a very popular one and has been extended in the present issue. The increased use of the matrices and casting box by newspapers has made a great number of changes and corrections necessary in this issue, but the information on this, as on all other points, is reliable and up to date.

To make this feature of thorough practical value, the width of column is given, so that matrices available for each particular periodical may be forwarded. These two items are of especial value both to advertisers and publishers, and we have found more than willingness among the latter to reply to questions on the subject. The time is approaching when every newspaper claiming to be aggressive and enterprising will have a stereotyping outfit as part of its plant, and the number now able to use matrices is very much larger than it was but a single year ago.

Another exclusive item of information to be found in convenient form in the Newspaper Rate Book has relation to the date of closing forms of monthly and other periodicals. The number of magazines is constantly on the increase, and it is no longer practicable to remember the closing day of each. It is, however, absolutely necessary to have the information at hand and the Newspaper Rate Book gives it in compact and reliable form. No other work or guide had attempted to do so before, and the new feature has been much appreciated. The dates have been revised up to the time of going to press, and the list includes new as well as old-established publications.

A glance at the table of contents will show the completeness of this issue of the Newspaper Rate Book. The first issue was a marked improvement on any other work of similar purpose, and was so regarded by advertisers and publishers. Each succeeding edition has been an improvement on its predecessor, and the fourth is submitted with the greatest confidence. The general catalogue with advertising rates, includes all newspapers having a circulation of 5000 or more, and the arrangement by states is convenient for quick reference, as well as for more deliberate calculation and research. The special list of dailies is in compact form with much needed information included, and this is further supplemented by a condensed list covering only those most prominent and influential. There is also presented in schedule form the rates charged by the daily papers of the five largest cities in the country.

Publications which appear at longer intervals—semi-weeklies and weeklies, semi-monthlies and monthlies—are all given careful attention, and the lists are as accurate and complete as it was possible to make them. Class papers have also been handled with care, and the subdivisions will be found generally convenient.

The typographical excellence of the work has been maintained. The type is clear and easily deciphered, and the reading matter is so arranged as to be pleasant to the eye. The Newspaper Rate Book has become an office requisite, and no advertiser's or publisher's library can be regarded as complete without a copy of it.

Newspaper Advertising.

THE object of advertising is to bring together buyer and seller. The man who advertises judiciously seldom fails to secure a substantial return upon his investment; the man who expects to get something for nothing—or next door to it—is liable to be disappointed in the results of his advertising, as in his other undertakings. The most liberal advertisers are naturally those who find commercial publicity profitable, and it is to be observed that the heaviest advertisers use the newspapers and magazines more freely every year. More convincing proof that newspaper advertising pays could not be desired. The poster, dodger and the trick device may attract attention and be profitable for certain classes of advertising, but long and expensive experience has taught that the best and most permanent results come from well worded, judiciously placed, and constantly repeated announcements in the daily and periodical press.

Perhaps the most commented upon feature at the dawn of the twentieth century is the magnitude of corporations and establishments in every line of business and in every commercial center. It is not necessary to quote names, but the thoughtful reader will have noted time and again that the firms which lead are those with whose names he has become familiar through the columns of the daily or weekly newspaper, or magazine. This fact has never been so self-evident as at the present time, and it is now generally conceded that the question is no longer "Shall we advertise?", but rather "How shall we advertise to secure the best results?"

NEWSPAPER GROWTH.

To those who are asking the latter question, the Newspaper Rate Book will be especially helpful. The press of the United States has assumed proportions well in keeping with national progress and commercial growth. A quarter of a century ago there were few newspapers which could prove a circulation of 100,000 daily, and these few were strictly eastern metropolitan publications. Now the average circulation of the New York dailies is in excess of these figures, and issues of half a million and over are claimed and conceded. Papers of more than 100,000 circulation are also to be found in many of the large cities, and their number is increasing every year. The penny paper has become an institution instead of an exception, and all sorts and conditions of men, women, and children have become newspaper readers.

THE POPULAR MAGAZINE.

The monthly magazine has also kept abreast of the times in regard to its character, price, and circulation. The advance made in the art of illustrating has rendered it possible to produce a profusely illustrated, well edited magazine at a price which was not even contemplated a few years ago. The magazine has got closer to the people. It finds its way into almost every home. It is read and re-read, and is frequently preserved for future reference. Its actual circulation is larger than the sworn statements of publishers indicate, for a single copy often enters several homes, and after repeated exchanges and loans, finds its way to the second-hand store; is re-sold, and commences the round again.

THE COUNTRY PRESS.

The country press, to use a common if not entirely appropriate term, has also kept pace with the times. The weekly newspapers in the county or market town is a distinctly American institution an outcome of home pride and loyalty. It is of a higher type than formerly and it covers its field ably and completely. It enters homes where in many instances no other paper or periodical is received, and it is read by every member of the family with painstaking interest, page by page, column by column, and item by item. The advertisements are not overlooked, especially when they are illustrated with attractive cuts.

PROFITABLE ADVERTISING.

It will be seen that almost every one can be reached by means of newspaper and magazine advertising. There is abundance in the way of mediums and the choice of selection is enormous. No general rule can be laid down for the guidance of advertisers. Some secure the best results from condensed announcements inserted in a very large number of papers simultaneously. Others prefer to use the leading metropolitian papers only, finding the return commensurate with the necessarily high rates charged. Some use the country weeklies exclusively, or in connection with plans covering the daily press. Others again derive exceptional profit from a free use of magazine pages. Circumstances, and the character of the announcements, necessarily vary, and hence the need for careful selection, such as can be made by an experienced advertising agency. But where good discretion and judgment are used newspaper and periodical advertising pays, and pays well.

THE HOME FIELD.

There are many reasons for enterprise in advertising at the present time. Money is plentiful and in search of channels for profitable investment. The public is spending more because it has more to spend. Increased prosperity has brought comparative luxuries within the reach of the many, as well as creating freer buying of what may be termed the necessities of life. There is an abundant field at home, and well directed advertising can not fail to produce a higher percentage of results than ever before. We are living in an era of trade expansion in every sense of the term. Competition is keen but healthy; everyone is on the lookout for increased business and, in his own way, is inviting patronage. The judicious advertiser is the man whose efforts are seconded by publications read by those whose business he seeks. It may have been possible a generation ago to ignore such help, but those behind the scenes know that at the present time advertising is essential to success. A business must either advance or recede, and when aggressiveness is general, it is dangerous to take a chance of being passed in the procession.

FOREIGN AND COLONIAL MEDIUMS.

To some of our readers the national policy of the country suggests ideas in the way of advertising. Our new territorial possessions offer a field for profitable enterprise, and Cuba and Mexico may also be mentioned in this connection. More business is being done by American houses in hitherto unexplored markets abroad than is generally realized, and advertising outside the United States is in many instances desirable. The publishers of the Newspaper Rate Book became impressed with this fact about two years ago and added a foreign department to their already well equipped advertising agency. The idea was a success from the start and the business of placing advertisements in papers not printed in the English language became quite a feature.

Advertisements are translated and set in type before the orders are given out, and no less than twenty-five languages are represented and used. Much of this business is done with newspapers printed in the United States, but not in the language of the country. A large and increasing percentage of the work is, however, with papers published in our new insular possessions and in the Central and South American republics. Returns from such advertisements can be easily traced. They have proved to be fully up to expectation in every respect, and demonstrate the existence of a field for enterprise, limitless in extent and of great possibilities.

SPECIAL OPPORTUNITIES.

While the terms "continuous" and "successful" are as a rule synonymous as applied to advertising, there are special occasions which call for unusual effort. The Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo is attracting visitors from all parts of the country as well as from Europe and the Latin-American countries. At Charleston this winter there will be an exposition which will also bring together people from over a large area. St. Louis is at work on the preliminaries of the Louisiana Purchase Centennial Exposition, which in 1903 will attract visitors and capital from all parts of the civilized world. In France advantage is taken by advertisers of the crowds brought to Paris by international expositions in the wording and placing of their announcements, and it may be well to consider the possibilities in this direction in regard to similar attractions on this side of the Atlantic.

FACILITIES FOR PLACING ADVERTISEMENTS.

The publishers of the Newspaper Rate Book are able to place at the disposal of advertisers the facilities of one of the best equipped advertising agencies in the world. More than a quarter of a century's continuous experience in business enables the firm to protect its clients and advance their interests in every way. Experiments are apt to be costly, and very few need be attempted when business is entrusted to a firm of long experience and established reputation.

All classes of advertising are given equal attention. The facilities of the office for executing large orders in the metropolitan dailies are unsurpassed, and to those who prefer to use less costly organs, the same care and attention can be promised. Combinations and special lists of almost any size or character can be furnished at short notice, together with estimates of cost per line or per announcement in all or any part. The offices of the firm are in St. Louis, Chicago, and Pittsburgh, giving it opportunities to cover the entire country quickly and efficiently.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.
Gentlemen:-

I am wiring you to close the contract for the WINF OF CARDUI advertising with the San Francisco CALL. Please see that the copy reaches them promptly,

I have been here since March 1st and have observed the newspaper situation as critically as possible. And I am surprised at the progress the CALL has made. The circulation records were opened to me and I found the net average for January 1901 to be 58,886 and for February 59,173. It is running about 60,000 this week. Nearly all of this circulation goes to the homes, the street and railroad sales being small.

The local advertisers speak very highly of the CALL, and use it very extensively.

Very truly yours,

J. A. Patten Secretary.

WHEELING REGISTER

WHEELING, WEST VIRGINIA.

PUBLISHED

DAILY—SUNDAY—WEEKLY

West Virginia is one of the most prosperous states in the United States. It has large manufacturing, mining, timber and agricultural industries. West Virginia has become, in the volume of product, the first among the states for oil and lumber, the second for coke, and the third for coal. It is traversed by a large number of railroads. It has 36 new railroads projected, 8 of which are now under construction. Wheeling is the leading city and the WHEELING REGISTER its leading newspaper.

Probably the most enterprising of all these papers published in foreign languages is the daily Jewish Courier. The Courier is just as enterprising as the American papers—perhaps even more enterprising than some of them. The paper was founded over a decade ago in Chicago, and has prospered ever since. Today it prints between 5,000 and 6,000 papers every afternoon, and scatters them on every side of Chicago. Its influence among the Jewish race of the city is wide-spread and strong. The paper prints a weekly edition, which has a circulation almost twice as large as the daily and which is sent all over the world. The weekly has subscribers which are located as far away as South Africa. — Chicago Chronicle, April 24, 1898.

The PROVIDENCE TELEGRAM

Evening ◊ Sunday ◊ Weekly

Circulation record for entire year 1900, evening, 34,371 copies daily; Sunday, 33,894 copies per issue. Largest circulation in New England outside of Boston.

Advertising record during the year 1900: The Evening and Sunday Telegram published 357,850 inches of paid advertising. This was 127,463 inches more than was published in the Daily and Sunday Providence Journal, and 26,095 inches more than was published in the Evening Bulletin and Sunday Journal combined. During the past four years the Telegram has beaten the Journal by 377,664 inches and the Evening Bulletin and Sunday Journal combined by 133,914 inches of paid advertising.

"Want" Ads The Telegram published more Want Ads than all other R. I. Newspapers combined. The record for 28 months, ending December 31, 1900, was: Telegram, 534,986; Journal, 144,188; Bulletin, 153,844.

No Rhode Island newspaper pretends to rival the Telegram in size, circulation and advertising patronage.

For nearly 40 years it has been the leading farm paper of the Mississippi Valley, and therefore its advertising, as well as its reading columns, carry peculiar weight with its readers.

The Journal Monthly

Is issued in magazine form, with colored covers, handsome illustrations and a literary bliff of fare that is not surpassed by any other publication of its kind in the country.

The story feature and the family departments are made especially prominent.

A duo that covers the whole rural field in the richest region of the world, fully, economically and effectively.

Wis.

Best Advertising Medium in Milwaukee.

In a Recent Case in Court Affecting the Evening Wisconsin, Mr. George P. Miller, President of the T. A. Chapman Company, the Second Largest Advertiser in Milwaukee, Testified as Follows:

"Now let me ask you that if at that interview of April 7, 1900, you said to Mr. Aikens that you considered the 'EVENING WISCONSIN' a better advertising medium than any of the other papers?"

"Yes, sir, I did."

"Did you also say to him that for that reason you had always paid the 'EVENING WISCONSIN' a higher rate per inch than the other evening papers, or words to that effect?"

"Yes, sir."

"That was true, was it?"

"That was true."

"That is true you said it and true you did it?"

"Yes, sir, and true I meant it."

"That was said in the presence of the three defendants, was it not?"

"Yes."

The solid, substantial farmer, who's a credit to his calling and his home and native land; the farmer who stands well in his community, who is a leader in thought and action—that's the sort o' man you find when you find a reader of the

BREEDER'S GAZETTE CHICAGO, ILL.

There is no agricultural paper in the country which reaches more intelligence or greater wealth than the BREEDER'S GAZETTE. It is distinctly the business farmer's paper. We do not recommend it for "clap-trap" schemes, but for a legitimate proposition which ought to appeal to men of sense and dollars, the BREEDER'S GAZETTE has not a peer in the Union. Its steady growth in circulation is perhaps the best indication of its standing among farmers. And every copy is paid for.

It Means Something

To be the best dressed paper in all New York. It means a make-up out of the ordinary is bound to be more inviting to the eye, that the reader is bound to see more of the general contents, that the advertisements get more attention, that the advertiser gets more publicity, and that the everyday and Sunday editions of

THE MORNING

give an advertiser the kind of satisfaction he wants, at a price he is satisfied to pay.

THE MORNING TELEGRAPH costs five cents a copy, and an army of buyers at that price means that an army of intelligent persons consider it worth more than any other newspaper in New York City. Apart from its novel, vigorous, fearless handling of the general news of the day, The Morning Telegraph is noted for its special feature and exclusive items, unobtainable elsewhere.

THE SUNDAY TELEGRAPH includes all these features, with additional sections teeming with tellable tales of persons and things really worth talking about. Its picture supplement is superior to anything in newspaperdom anywhere, with high class half tones printed on first-class book paper.

BALTIMORE MORNING
AND
SUNDAY HERALD

All Purchasers of Publicity Will Note:

1st.—That the Morning and Sunday Herald now leads in the field of Baltimore Journalism.

2nd.—It has character, quality and an individuality all its own.

3rd.—It is read by the masses as well as the monied classes.

4th.—Every copy printed means a possible purchaser.

5th.—The Morning and Sunday Herald circulates through news-dealers in Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida.

6th.—The Herald is an all-round paying proposition for advertisers and purchasers of space. A travelling agent of a large and leading house states that it is the most satisfactory paper in Baltimore to contract with, as he knows exactly what he is buying, and, furthermore, he is enabled to buy at a satisfactory price.

7th.—The Baltimore field cannot be covered without using the Herald, Morning and Sunday; and, furthermore, it can thus be covered cheaper than in any other way.

EDUCATING THE RISING GENERATION.

The Herald has been doing this for twenty-five years to great advantage to itself and others interested. During that time the Herald has grown from an infant to a giant, and to-day occupies a commanding position in the field of Baltimore journalism. The phenomenal growth of the Herald has nothing of the element of luck about it. It has borne the fruits of brains, energy and capital concentrated and continued in the right direction. The Herald's business life is an open book. Housed in its own home, the most modern and palatial of any Baltimore newspaper, its mechanical facilities are the best of any Baltimore newspaper, and all passers on the street can see its mammoth presses in active operation.

The Evening Herald and the Trusts.

We buy our paper of a Trust.
We bought our typesetting machines of a Trust.
Our display type cost a price fixed by a Trust.

Our presses cost us what trade combinations said they should, and the oil which lubricates them came from the vats of the Standard Oil Company.

Our typewriters were bought at the price of the Typewriter Trust.

Our type making and type setting is done by a Labor Trust.

And still The Herald prospers, because it has a monopoly of its field and controls the immense output of the hot iron which is entering the souls of those who try to persuade themselves that they are its competitors.

In this day of Trusts why not put yours in a paper which is strong enough to succeed in spite of them—and which, in addition, is something of a monopoly itself. There are others—but not real ones—in the field, which is filled by The Evening Herald.

Perhaps by this time you know more than you did at the beginning.

Will you profit by it ? ? ? ? ?

Advertisers

"The survival of the fittest" is a term peculiarly well adapted to the mail-order papers, for with this class nothing but results count—no results, no survival.—Advertising Experience.

The Editor of Advertising Experience is exactly right, but he should have included the general advertiser. The Ellis "papers that pay" survive and are phenomenally successful because they have TREMENDOUS CIRCULATIONS, and do invariably give great results to the general advertiser.

Every copy of the 2,000,000 monthly circulation reaches a live reader. No returns—they are not newsstand periodicals.

Advertisers in our papers never pay for thousands of unsold "DEAD" copies—copies returned by news companies.

Our 2,000,000 copies each month are sent direct by mail to live country people who read advertisements—they have the habit of reading advertisements firmly fixed.

We spend a fortune each year in ADVERTISING to get these readers.

The prosperous condition of our business depends solely and entirely upon placing direct into the hands of the country people millions of copies of our papers. That is the reason our papers survive.

We not only survive, but we grow, progress—expand.

With our long and extended experience we know we must send by mail direct to the millions of people who read advertisements and who will subscribe for our papers.

We have over 2,000,000 circulation each month among live reading country people, and in these prosperous times this circulation is rapidly increasing.

FROM THE UNITED STATES

The Sunday School Times

(Issued 43 Years)

This famous weekly, familiar to hundreds of thousands of teachers, parents, ministers, and adult Bible students, has changed its form. In its new dress of better paper, illustrations, type, and printing, it is The "Greater" Sunday School Times, more worthy than ever of a place in every Christian home and on every advertiser's list who has anything good to sell to good people in the best religious homes of the different denominations.

FROM THE MIDDLE STATES

THE LUTHERAN OBSERVER

(Issued 75 Years)

Is the oldest, and exceeds in circulation all the other English Lutheran papers published in this country. It is the leading Lutheran organ. Its readers are the substantial old family Lutheran people.

THE CHRISTIAN STANDARD

(Issued 36 Years)

Is non-sectarian, but is largely taken by Methodists—its aim being the promotion of Christian Holiness. Its readers are serious people, thoughtful, forward looking and well-to-do.

THE REF'D CHURCH MESSENGER

(Issued 69 Years)

Official organ of the Reformed Church of the United States, commonly known as the German Reformed. Its readers are mainly staid, responsible people in the older parts of the country—a suburban and farming people, provident and thrifty.

THE LUTHERAN

(Issued 45 Years)

The official English organ of the General Council of the Evangelical Lutheran Church—the High Church Lutherans. Its readers are prosperous people—well-to-do families.

THE EPISCOPAL RECORDER

(Issued 81 Years)

The only periodical of the Reformed Episcopal Church. Its readers are the highly cultivated, earnest people of means. A paper of much influence and without a rival in its work.

THE CHRISTIAN INSTRUCTOR

(Issued 58 Years)

United Presbyterian, which sect contains over 140,000 members. So ably edited as to draw the utmost confidence of its readers, who are sound in their church loyalty, prosperous, steady, comfortable.

All the papers in Baltimore have excellent circulations, but THE NEWS is the only paper that PUBLISHES a statement of its DAILY circulation. Every advertiser has free access to the circulation records and holds an annual pass to the press room.

No doubt all the papers give each advertiser the lowest rate. But THE NEWS is the only paper that opens its books, accounts and contracts so that the advertiser may assure himself that he is "on the ground floor."

The character of THE NEWS is KNOWN, the extent of its circulation is KNOWN and its rates are KNOWN. This makes the purchase of advertising space in THE NEWS as simple and safe as buying a government bond.

Facts About... The Quincy Journal.

QUINCY is the largest town on the Mississippi river between St. Louis and St. Paul—which are 729 miles apart, and the largest town between Chicago and Kansas City—which are 489 miles apart. Quincy is 146 miles from St. Louis, by rail; 226 miles from Kansas City, 315 from Omaha and 263 miles from Chicago. This gives THE JOURNAL a field peculiarly its own, and in this field THE JOURNAL circulates supreme. It is the only daily newspaper printed in this field that has a general circulation throughout it.

This field of which we speak—THE JOURNAL'S field—covers an area of 25,000 square miles, a field more than three times as large as Massachusetts, and larger than Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Delaware combined. This field is the very heart and garden spot of the Mississippi Valley. In it live a million and a quarter of thrifty, industrious, intelligent, progressive people. Quincy is the population, industrial and commercial center of this field, and into this field more copies of THE DAILY JOURNAL are sent than all the other daily papers printed outside the field, combined, send into it.

THE JOURNAL is one of the largest, most expensively gotten up, and is the most widely circulated daily paper in the State of Illinois outside of Chicago; and its circulation exceeds, with one exception, that of any daily newspaper printed in Missouri outside of St. Louis and Kansas City. THE JOURNAL uses more print paper, more printers' ink and pays more second-class postage than all the other daily and weekly papers in Quincy combined.

The foregoing statements are absolutely true, and THE JOURNAL will be glad to make them a basis for advertising contracts.

The circulation of THE JOURNAL exceeds that of all other Daily and Weekly Newspapers published in Quincy. Sworn average circulation 11,581 per day.

THE AMERICAN BOY.

(Extract from the Detroit Journal)

EACH number of THE AMERICAN BOY, the magazine published in Detroit by the Sprague Publishing Co., brings fresh evidence of permanency, of success of aim and of solid growth along the lines conceived and laid out by its editor and founder, Wm. O. Sprague. The June number shows that the magazine is "finding itself"—that it is settling down to a consistency in its editorial treatment and business policy that will fix its individuality, personalizing it in the minds of its readers and building up that feeling of sympathy between editor and reader that is one of the intangible, but nevertheless extremely valuable assets of every successful publication. It is the only distinctively boys' paper in the country, and as such occupies an important and responsible place. It has been its editor's aim to pitch its tone high, but not so high that the boys who read it will miss its dominant note. To that end he is making THE AMERICAN BOY clean, entertaining, helpful, bright and attractive, while rigorously eliminating the sensational, improbable and unduly exciting. This careful policy results in a publication for boys that any family may admit to the home circle without fear.

The secret of the marvelous success of this high-grade publication is fully explained in this extract.

The Milwaukee Free Press

WISCONSIN'S NEW MORNING DAILY.
The Popular ONE CENT Family Paper.

————CIRCULATION————
DAILY SUNDAY
16,000 10,000

The FREE PRESS has the support of the State Administration and the confidence of the people of Milwaukee and Wisconsin, as evidenced by the fact that before their first number was issued they secured over 10,000 paid subscribers in Milwaukee and vicinity, which has since been increased to 16,000. The projectors of the FREE PRESS believe that the time has arrived when the development of the State of Wisconsin and the growth of its metropolis afford a field for newspaper competition. This belief apparently is shared by very many citizens in Milwaukee and throughout the State, whose cordial support enabled the paper to secure a list of subscribers in advance as has required years of effort for other papers previously established to obtain.

A FEW FACTS ABOUT
The Christian Observer

Founded September 4, 1813.

The Oldest Religious Newspaper in the World.

IT HAS been edited and owned by the Converses (father and sons) for 70 odd years. It is the best family newspaper in the Southern States. It is the leading paper of the Southern Presbyterian Church with its 200,000 members. It has a larger circulation than the combined circulation of all the other Presbyterian papers in the south. Annual reports of the U. S. Post-office Department show that it pays more newspaper postage than is paid by all the newspapers combined in the majority of the first-class postoffices in the United States — the total amount of postage received from all the newspapers combined is less than that paid by Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 24, 1900.

The Herold Company, Milwaukee, Wis.

Gentlemen: The large circulation and remarkable drawing qualities of the Milwaukee Daily Herold were thoroughly proven to me and my assistants on the occasion of our free distribution of samples of James S. Kirk & Co.'s "JAP ROSE" Soap, made at your office November 23d and 24th, 1900. Our brief announcement in your paper brought thousands of your people from all over the city and county. Three of us were busy from early in the morning until late in the evening supplying the demand of a constantly changing throng for these samples. In making a comparison of the result of our distribution as to which Milwaukee paper brought the largest number of people, I found that in the face of the fact that the three other papers used did not mention your office as a place of distribution, almost double the number of samples were called for at your office. You are to be congratulated upon this remarkable showing, and in consequence I am in a position from my own knowledge to recommend your valuable medium to every advertiser in the Union seeking German patronage, as it is unquestionably the strongest Milwaukee paper to bring returns. Very truly yours,

JOHN KIEFER, JR.,

There are only nineteen cities in the United States having a daily paper with a larger circulation than THE ATLANTA JOURNAL.

Atlanta ranks number forty-three on the list of cities, according to the last census.

The Atlanta Journal

Ranks number twenty, thus covering its field completely.

It challenges any two daily papers in Georgia combined to equal its circulation.

The newspaper directories accord it from twelve to fifteen thousand more circulation than its next highest competitor.

The local advertisers of Atlanta patronize it more largely than any other paper.

In circulation, prestige and influence, it has passed all other papers in what are known as the cotton producing States.

The average circulation during May, 1901, was 33,716.

The semi-weekly journal has an average circulation of fully 40,000, and is read by the thriftiest farmers of the South.

YOU ARE NOT PAYING FOR EXPERIENCE

when you advertise in the Vickery & Hill Publications. They are sure and steady payers. Advertising is not placed in them on the basis of sentiment or friendship. The space runs into too much money for this. Advertisers watch their returns from these publications closer than from any others. They know that it is not what they pay for their advertising in the Vickery & Hill Publications, but the profit they make on their investment that is important. We do not, nor could we get a different lot of advertisers each issue. It is the advertiser who uses our publications continuously that we rely upon. For this reason we must and do give the very best value for the money. A glance through our late publications will show that we are still doing business with the same advertisers who used our mediums from one to ten years ago. The amount of advertising we carry is the best proof that advertisers are pleased with the results we give them.

THE CIRCULATION OF THE

VICKERY & HILL LIST is never below 1,500,000

AND THAT OF

THE AMERICAN WOMAN never below 1,000,000

each month, making a combined circulation of 2,500,000 each issue with no duplication. You can practically reach every mail order buyer in the United States by using space continuously in these great publications alone. Read what the following advertisers (who are still with us) said a year ago:

New York.
For genuine results not a paper on the list can beat the Vickery & Hill Collection. What we want is more like them.

We can not speak too highly of your list as valuable mediums for general mail order advertising. For mail order pullers the results have excelled all other mediums in existence.

We consider the Vickery & Hill List of papers among the best advertising mediums we use. From our one-inch advertisements one insertion last spring we received over 650 inquiries, and from a previous insertion of the same ad one time in Hearth and Home alone we received almost 400 inquiries.

Is substantially the only agricultural paper published right in the midst of the homes of the Bohemian people of this section. It has the patronage of the LEADING implement factories of the United States to a degree far beyond ANY PRECEDENT (as a perusal will show). Our readers know that these papers will not carry schemes to catch the unwary, neither will they talk on any subject that can estrange those who read them. Such conduct compels our people to RELY upon every statement they will make, no matter whether it be in EDITORIAL or ADVERTISING. We shall make a very vigorous subscription campaign, during the Summer and Fall, in which we shall spend several thousand dollars in placing a prospectus of this Bible Study course in the hands of practically every Minister in the country and as many Sunday-School Superintendents and Teachers as we can possibly reach.

Increased Circulation

By January 1, 1902, we shall have at least 75,000 paid subscriptions on our list, and by May 1, 1902, fully 100,000.

Present Rate

Our present rate is based on a circulation of 50,000. Such an increase in circulation as we have indicated, and which is sure to come, will naturally call for an increase in our rate on new contracts. On contracts placed now advertisers will be getting the benefit of the increase in circulation, as it comes, and at the present rate. Isn't it a good time to get under cover! The Union Gospel News pays others. It will pay YOU!

THE PUBLIC HEALTH JOURNAL

A MONTHLY JOURNAL, PUBLISHED BY THE PUBLIC HEALTH JOURNAL CO., NEW YORK

FACTS FOR MANUFACTURERS OF MEDICAL SPECIALTIES...

OUR REASONS FOR PUBLISHING THE PUBLIC HEALTH JOURNAL

Are that we wish to bring before the medical profession the most recent advances in sanitary science and in effective therapeutics and to revive the use of many old and valuable remedies which physicians have forgotten.

ABOUT OUR CIRCULATION.

In order to get advertising patronage all the medical journals claim a certain circulation. As such claims are usually regarded with much distrust by advertisers, we refrain from making any claims on this point and shall submit every month post office receipts which are positive proof of the number of pounds weight of journals posted, from which the actual circulation can be readily computed.

FAVORABLE POSITION OF ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call special attention to the fact that all advertisements are printed next to reading matter and must therefore be noticed by every reader.

EVERY COPY SAVED

Up-to-Date Farming and Gardening

THE GREATEST SUCCESS OF ALL AGRICULTURAL PAPERS.

UP-TO-DATE FARMING AND GARDENING is distinct and unlike any other farm or garden paper in a few respects.

FIRST. It has secured a larger subscription list than any other agricultural paper in the same length of time. This was accomplished on merit. The people will subscribe for a paper that teaches.

SECOND. It carries more advertising than any other agricultural paper with one exception. Known circulation, low rate, good results did it.

THIRD. It is the only paper that we know of that has proved its circulation from its first issue, thus inspiring the confidence of advertisers.

UP-TO-DATE is known as the Farmers' Advance Agent for up-to-date methods, and the Peerless advertising medium.

UP-TO-DATE has a guaranteed circulation of 100,000 copies, and every copy goes to a live, hustling tiller of the soil. Here is the advertisers' opportunity at only 40 cents a line. You would pay many other publishers $2.00 a line for equal circulation.

Form closes last day of month.

SAVANNAH is one of the great commercial cities of the country, and the outlet for the products of half of the South Atlantic States. It is the second cotton port, and the largest naval stores port in the world, and is also an important lumber and rice port. It is the center of the wealth, culture and business of two States. Its growth during the past few years has equaled the extraordinary records of cities in the Northwest. The MORNING NEWS is its only morning paper; it has no competitor in its territory, and reaches every business man and every comfortable home in Savannah and fifty surrounding counties. It was established in 1830. It is one of the four or five really great and influential papers of the whole South.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

Advertisers in Religious Publications have several important points to consider in determining which of them is the best medium through which to reach people whom they desire to interest in what they have to offer. It will be apparent to discriminating advertisers that

The Advocate & Guardian

New York (Established in 1834)

fills all requirements in a manner which makes it the best possible medium. It has a constituency of the very highest character, intelligence, social position and wealth, who have money to spend for what they desire.

It has a bona fide paid circulation extending to every State and Territory in the Union, and being undenominational, it is not confined to any particular sect.

It accepts absolutely no advertising of a questionable nature, and its readers look upon anything advertised in its pages as bearing the personal indorsement of the editor and managers.

The Advocate and Guardian is a 16-page semi-monthly, undenominational paper, containing interesting articles on current and religious topics, with Children's, Home and other departments. It is essentially a home paper.

Orders and correspondence relating to advertising should be addressed to J. E. Jewett, Manager Advertising Department, 29 East 29th Street, New York.

Facts, easily proved, show that, in the influence it exerts in the homes of its subscribers, . . .

Gentlemen:—I am pleased to receive the report which is before me of the fine condition that the Star is in, with its magnificent circulation, its enterprise, and its up-to-date principles. I presume the writer was in the same condition of mind that nearly all the general advertisers are—that your paper was not nearly so large as it really is, and not nearly as valuable as it really is for advertising purposes. We therefore take pleasure in handing you certificate of guarantee, and will take the same pleasure in presenting you to the general advertisers of this country in such a manner that results must follow that will be pleasing to you. A Peculiar Paper

There is published at Indianapolis, Ind., a PECULIAR PAPER. It is the only one of its kind. There is no other like it. While strictly agricultural, it also deals with the absorbing topics of public interest—the great questions of the day—which affect the farmer's welfare, thus offering to the farmer a slice of

Palatable Meat

Sandwiched between the upper and nether pieces of his bread. The AMERICAN FARMER gives the American farmer food along the line of economic questions as well as an agricultural and stock-growing diet. It does not

Cram The Farmer

With the dry routine of farm notes, to the exclusion of everything else, but presents him with a good, cooling draught as a relish to his food.

In every voting precinct in the leading western states the AMERICAN FARMER has a reliable agent constantly looking after its interests. This is why its circulation continues to grow as no other paper, and why its

Pulling Powers

Are unequalled. The advertiser can get into an agricultural paper almost anywhere. But there are agricultural papers and agricultural papers, but only one AMERICAN FARMER, and the advertiser is wise who puts this Peculiar Paper on his list.

Essentially a Newspaper.—THE BROOKLYN DAILY CITIZEN is now in its fifteenth year. It is essentially a newspaper for the home circle. While distinguished for enterprise, care has been taken from the beginning of its career to admit nothing to its columns that would offend the moral sense of self-respecting people.

In Politics.—In politics it is Democratic, but its Democracy has never prevented it from condemning evil in Democrats, or upholding men of other parties who did right. It is the organ of citizens, irrespective of party, who make the public well-being their first consideration.

Educational Affairs.—The attention which it gives educational affairs has secured for it a practical monopoly of the favor of nearly three thousand teachers in the public schools.

Public Movements.—Similarly, the admirable manner in which it has caused the various public movements in which ladies have been engaged to be reported, has made it the chief medium of news for the refined, social, benevolent and fashionable life of Brooklyn.

Advertisers.—The people, whom it is the object of nearly all important advertisers to reach, are precisely those who read THE CITIZEN. It offers no encouragement to either criminal classes or those who suffer a depraved taste. Its appeal is wholly to what is virtuous, honest, self-supporting and thoughtful in the community.

Enormously Successful.—THE CITIZEN has been enormously successful. It owns the splendid building in which it is housed, and which is the most valuable piece of business property in the city.

The Equipment.—The equipment of THE CITIZEN is complete and up-to-date in all respects. Its composing-room is filled with typesetting machines of the latest pattern; its pressroom is adorned with specimens of the skill of the Hoes, of New York, and the Goss Company, of Chicago.

The Toledo Blade

TOLEDO, OHIO.

The Blade is the daily paper in Toledo which fulfills all requirements, as to quantity and quality of circulation, in the greatest degree. Its circulation is larger than that of any other paper published there. It is emphatically the home paper, read in the family circle, by the women buyers as well as the men. A current week its circulation by days was as follows:

Monday, May 27, 1901,	21,800
Tuesday, May 28, 1901,	21,800
Wednesday, May 29, 1901,	21,700
Thursday, May 30, 1901,	21,300
Friday, May 31, 1901,	21,700
Saturday, June 1, 1901,	24,800
Total for the week,	133,100
Average daily circulation,	22,183

Year by year The Blade's circulation grows, proportionately to the increase in the population of Toledo. Notice this steady, solid growth in the following comparison of one week's circulation with that of the corresponding weeks of the previous six years. The only departure from it is the boom in 1898, due to popular interest in the Spanish war:

THE OKLAHOMA STATE CAPITAL DAILY and Official Paper of Oklahoma, Logan WEEKLY. County and the City of Guthrie.

Only Associated Press Paper in Oklahoma and Indian Territories.

Full morning franchise. Published at the Capital of Oklahoma, and in the largest town and commercial center of Oklahoma and Indian Territories. The daily is 8 pages of seven columns or 8 pages of eight columns each. Sunday, 16 pages of seven columns each. Weekly, 8 pages of eight columns. Average circulation for 1900 (per detailed and certified statement)—daily, 9,266; weekly, 15,586.

It is set on three duplex Mergenthaler type-setting machines, owned by this office. It is run on the latest improved perfecting press, with a capacity of 25,000 per hour.

Population of Oklahoma, 1900 (U. S. census), . . . 294,531

Population of Indian Territory, 1900 (U. S. census), . . . 231,961

Total of the two Territories, . . . 526,492

Only through these papers can this great population be reached. The DAILY and WEEKLY STATE CAPITAL go to every post office in Oklahoma and Indian Territories. The great State papers of all this territory are the daily and weekly OKLAHOMA STATE CAPITAL. No other daily in the territory approaches one-half of the circulation of the DAILY STATE CAPITAL, and no other weekly paper has one-third the circulation of the WEEKLY STATE CAPITAL. THE STATE CAPITAL was founded on April 27, 1889, the day on which Oklahoma was opened to settlement, and it has the undisputed distinction of being the first paper published in Oklahoma.

STATE CAPITAL PRINTING CO., GUTHRIE, OKLA.

Then there is PENNSYLVANIA GRIT with its news, bright stories, profusion of pictures, and many special practical features that enter into the home life of more than 100,000 families among the great middle classes, the wage earners and liberal livers and spenders of the country.

The average circulation for 1900 was 104,318 copies. The present circulation is over 120,000 copies weekly and the average for the year 1901 will be thousands greater than last year's.

Size up your needs, size up GRIT, size up the field and you will be convinced like others that GRIT offers one of the finest advertising propositions of the day.

The low rate and big returns keep available space nearly always filled by advertisers who have "discovered us". Let us send you sample copies, rates, etc. GRIT PUBLISHING CO., Williamsport, Pa.

A Problem and its Solution.

The Problem If THE TELEGRAPH has a larger circulation in the homes of Dubuque than the three other daily papers combined, in how many more homes will your ads be read if you advertise in THE TELEGRAPH than they would be by advertising in the three other daily papers ?

The Solution By careful canvass of the city for directory, we have solved the above problem and the figures are herewith given.

These are the actual figures of the circulation of the four daily papers in the homes of Dubuque as shown by the house-to-house canvass made for directory.

Globe-Journal	2,047
Evening Herald	312
Times	182

Total 2,765
Evening Telegraph - 3,846
Telegraph more than all others, 1,081.

The mail circulation of THE DAILY TELEGRAPH is 2,000, making a total daily circulation of 5,846.

The guaranteed circulation of the Semi-Weekly Telegraph is 15,000, the largest in the state. Investigate and be convinced.
